Manuscript Title: _____

Author(s): _____

The author(s) hereby assign and transfer to Multimed Inc. all right, title, and interest in and to the copyright in said manuscript.

The Authors warrant and represent that:

- You are the author(s) and sole owner(s) of the copyright and have not previously assigned copyright or granted a license to any other third party.
- This manuscript, in its entirety, is original and that none of the material in the manuscript has been previously published, is included in another manuscript, or is currently under consideration for publication elsewhere. Any reference to or use of previously published material is explicitly acknowledged in the manuscript and the authors have obtained permissions where necessary. Permissions must be provided and attached to this agreement.
- The article does not libel or violate the privacy rights of any third party.

As an author, you are granted specific rights for a large number of author uses, which are granted and permitted without the need to obtain specific permission from the copyright holder, Multimed Inc. The article must be properly cited (i.e., author name(s), journal name, copyright year, volume number, inclusive pages, and copyright holder). These author rights are granted and apply only to articles for which you are named as the author or co-author. The author rights include:

- The right to post a copy of the article on the Authors' own web site after publication of the printed edition of the Journal, provided that a hyperlink is made to the published version available at www.current-oncology.com;
- The right to reuse figures or tables created by the authors and contained in the article in other works created by them;
- The right to make copies of the article for your own personal use, including for your own classroom teaching use;
- The right to reproduce, and permit any academic institution where you work at the time, to reproduce, the article for the purpose of course teaching;
- The right to include the article in full or in part in a thesis or dissertation;
- The right to make copies and distribute copies of the article to research colleagues, for the personal use by such colleagues (but not commercially or mass distribution (e.g. Email list));
- Patent and trademark rights and rights to any process or procedure described in the article;
- The right to present the article at a meeting or conference and to distribute copies of such paper or article to the delegates attending the meeting (permission must be obtained for the printing of 25 copies or more);
- The right to use the article or any part thereof in a printed compilation of works of the author, such as collected writings or lecture notes (subsequent to publication of the article in the Journal and provided that it is not for commercial use);
- The right to reuse portions or excerpts in other works, with full acknowledgment of its original publication in the journal.

Multimed Inc. sends all articles published in Current Oncology immediately upon online publication, without further intervention from the author, to PubMed Central (PMC), the National Library of Medicine's full text article archive. All articles are also mirrored in all PMC sites, including PubMed Central Canada. Manuscripts deposited to PMC are freely available to the public, via the internet, upon publication in the journal.

Author Fees

The author(s) understand that an Article Processing Fee (APF) and Extra Page Charges (EPC) will apply to all manuscripts including: original articles, review articles, case reports, practice guidelines and consensus statements, short communication, perspectives in oncology articles, and non-solicited commentaries. The APF is $800.00 CDN, which includes up to four black & white published pages. EPC of $150.00 CDN per b&w page will apply for each additional published page over four pages. Letters to the editor, editorials, cancer narratives, solicited commentaries and invited guest editorials are exempt from paying this fee. If an author is unable to support these author fees a fee waiver form must be submitted to Multimed Inc. for our consideration. Separate fees apply for meeting reports, abstracts, proceedings and industry sponsored articles. To help determine the approximate author fees for an article, please send an email to current\_oncology@multi-med.com for an estimated published page count. Please provide the manuscript title or ID. Please note an accurate page count of your article and the associated fees can only be determined once the article is in final PDF galley format.
